

Hadley's Eye Care Professionals' Speakers Bureau

Lorraine (Lori) M. Provencher, M.D.

Dr. Provencher is a member of the glaucoma service at the Cincinnati Eye Institute.

Specialities

Ophthalmology, Glaucoma, Cataracts

Current activities

Specializing in a variety of laser and surgical procedures for the treatment of glaucoma.

Professional Interests

In addition to her clinical work, Dr. Provencher has interests in teaching, mentorship, and online education.

Dr. Provencher performs cataract surgery on patients with and without glaucoma and specializes in a variety of laser and surgical procedures for the treatment of glaucoma, including minimally-invasive glaucoma surgeries (MIGS). In addition to her clinical work, Dr. Provencher has interests in teaching, mentorship, and online education.

Hadley's Eye Care Professionals' Speakers Bureau

Jullia A. Rosdahl, M.D., Ph.D.

Assistant Professor of Ophthalmology

Staff Ophthalmologist, Durham VA Medical Center • Duke Eye Center, Duke University, Durham, North Carolina

Specialties

Ophthalmology; Glaucoma; Patient education

Current activities

Dr. Rosdahl is a practicing glaucoma specialist and clinician-scientist at the Duke Eye Center. She is involved in teaching medical students and ophthalmology trainees.

Professional highlights

Dr. Rosdahl is board-certified by the American Board of Ophthalmology and fellowship-trained in glaucoma. She completed her medical and graduate school training at Case Western Reserve University Medical Scientist Training Program. ganglion cells, the neurons affected by glaucoma.

Hadley's Eye Care Professionals' Speakers Bureau

Mark E. Wilkinson, O.D.

National Eye Health Education Program (NEHEP) Planning Committee • Chair, NEHEP Low Vision Subcommittee • National Eye Institute (NEI) • National Institutes of Health • Department of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences Director

Specialties

Optometry • Low Vision • Vision Rehabilitation

Research highlights

Dr. Wilkinson's research interests include: driving competency with visual acuity, visual field, and/or cognitive impairments. He also is studying the benefits of rehabilitative interventions for individuals with visual impairments. In addition, Dr. Wilkinson is researching the phenotypic differences of individuals with inherited eye diseases.