The App Store

The App Store has an app for just about anything!

One of the most exciting things about an Apple device is the amazing number of apps you can download from the App Store. You can find apps for everything from reading to music to social networking and even cooking. Check it out!

Searching the App Store

1. Open the Search tab in the App Store app.
2. Touch the Search field at the top of the screen. Then double tap to enter the edit field.
3. Type the word “Triode.”

Tip: Triode is an accessible Internet radio app and will be used in the steps that follow. But you can search for whatever you want.

4. Touch the Search button at the bottom right of the screen. Then double tap to perform the search.

5. Right swipe past the Cancel button until you reach the Triode app.

Tip: Apple places a sponsored app at the very top of the search results, and it is usually the same kind of app you're searching for. VoiceOver will tell you that it is an advertisement. But you'll have to swipe past it before you find the search result you want.

6. VoiceOver announces the Triode app's title, ratings, and number of reviews.

Tip: If you want to read the app reviews or want more information about the app, you can double tap here.

Downloading an App

7. Right swipe to move to the Get button. VoiceOver tells you there are in-app purchases, but the app itself is free.

Tip: In-app purchases for any app means that there are more advanced features available that you can buy once you're using the app. If there's an upfront cost to buy the app, VoiceOver would tell you that here as well. Most apps will only cost a couple of dollars.

8. Double tap to purchase the app. It is called a purchase even when the app is free.

9. Once you confirm the purchase with Face ID or Touch ID, it downloads to your device.

Now that you know how to search for and download apps, check out the other workshops in this series to learn more about the entertainment features on your device.
