

Siri

Siri for Walking Directions

You can easily get walking directions using Siri.

Walking is great for your physical and mental health. And you can use Siri to get real-time walking directions. Try it out!

Tip: Siri is usually turned on during the setup process for your device. But if you haven't yet set up Siri, contact a Hadley learning expert for help.

Tip: To get the most interaction from Siri, make sure VoiceOver (Apple's built-in screen reading software) is running on your device. If you're not familiar with VoiceOver, check out the Listen with VoiceOver series.

Using Siri for Walking Directions

1. Think of a nearby place you'd want to walk to, for example, a fast-food restaurant.
2. Say, "Hey Siri" or "Siri." Then say, "Give me walking directions to McDonald's."
3. Siri asks you to confirm the address. If it's correct, respond "Yes."

Tip: If the first address isn't the location you want, say "No." Siri will then give you the next closest location.

4. Siri responds, “Getting walking directions to McDonald’s,” and your Maps app opens, showing a Go button at the bottom right of your screen.
5. Touch the Go button and then double tap to select it.
6. Siri says, “Starting walking directions to McDonald’s.”
7. Siri maps your walking route. Once you start walking and reach an intersection, Siri will tell you which way to turn and announce the distance to the next turn.
8. To cancel walking directions, say, “Hey Siri, stop navigation.” Siri says, “Ending navigation.”

Now you know a fast way to use Siri for walking directions. Give another workshop a try to see how you can use Siri for setting alarms.